Author's Page ~ Sharen S. Peters

As a way of coping with sadness and loneliness in her childhood, Sharen S. Peters began writing poetry in her teenage years. She has been writing ever since, but only recently has begun sharing her words in hope that it will help other lonely children.

Sharen graduated with an MBA from the University of Connecticut and has a Dental Hygiene Certificate from the University of Pennsylvania. She resides in New England with her husband Tom. Their 15-year-old Sheltie Rebel has become a part of their family story.

"I'm Just a Little Someone"

Sharen's first children's book will be released in February, 2016, but may become available on Amazon.com and bn.com.
